

Marketing Privacy Policy

Personal Information Protection Policy

Learn more about the Personal Information Protection Policy

Handling of Personal Information

Acquisition of Information and Purpose of Use

BizReach, Inc. (hereinafter, “we, us, the Company, etc.”) will acquire personally identifiable information such the name, e-mail address, company name and job title from the representatives of companies seeking to use the various services and systems that we operate. We acquire this information in order to manage the information of companies wishing to use or using our services and systems, to disclose information within the various services and systems that we operate, to use for our various services and systems and to deliver our e-mail newsletter; we do not use the information we have acquired for any other purpose.

Entrustment/Provision of Information

We will never provide or entrust personally identifiable information (name, address, phone number, e-mail address, etc.) to any third party beyond the scope of the purpose for which it was so acquired without the consent of the person who is the subject of that information except as provided for in laws and regulations.

Disclosure/Correction/Deletion of Information

We will promptly respond to requests to disclose, correct, make additions to or delete personal information; to specify the purpose of use of personal information; or to cease using or providing personal information, in accordance with our company procedures.

Safety Management

We will endeavor to continually take the necessary technical and organizational safety measures to mitigate against the risks of unauthorized access to personal information or the loss, destruction, tampering and leakage of personal information, etc.

Voluntary Nature of the Provision of Personal Information

The provision of personal information to our company is voluntary. However, please be aware that you may be unable to register as a member or use our services and systems if you do not provide the necessary information.

Personal Information Protection Manager and Inquiries

We have placed the following person in charge of the proper protection of personal information. Please direct any inquiries concerning the management of personal information or requests to disclose, correct or delete personal information to the following contact.

BizReach, Inc.

Inquiries and complaints concerning personal information

Personal information protection manager: Chief Information Security Officer

Address: 2-15-1 Shibuya, Shibuya-ku, Tokyo 150-0002

TEL: 0120-377-803